BRADFUTE SAYS IDEA OF FARM BUREAU WRONG

Not Organized to Take Over Business, Declares
Head

ACTS AS C. OF C.

Strive to Better Market
Conditions as They Affect Farmer

Columbus, April 22.—"Any notion on the part of city men that the farmers of Ohio are forming an organization antagonistic to them to drive them out of business, and take over their business for themselves is without foundation," declared O. E. Bradfute, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, today, speaking of the relations between farmers and commercial organizations.

"We perform much the same function for the farmer that chambers of commerce do in the business circles of the cities," he continued. "Our organization does not fight any legitimate business. It is purely a service organization. We have a distinct idea that market conditions need improvement, but we have no thought of entering the market field and destroying old lines of business organizations."

Mr. Bradfute pointed out that the first big step toward this improvement is cooperative marketing, which provides for "careful grading of articles and conforming to the grades."

In striving to improve market conditions, Mr. Bradfute said, the movement does mean the elimination of the certain type of middleman. The illustrative example of this "type" is that of a small Ohio village in which there were previously seven stations for the receiving of dairy products. These stations daily took in the produce from the farmers and re-sold it to manufacturing concerns. The share of this type of middleman, in the market price of the finished product was larger than either the farmer or the retailer, Mr. Bradfute said. His figures were 39 per cent for the farmer, 47 per cent for the middleman, and 14 per cent for the retailer. In this village, Mr. Bradfute said, the farmers formed a single, cooperative station which turned out the finished product to the retailer, bringing the farmer a greater revenue, an increased portion to the retailer, and gave the consumer better value for less money.

By cooperative marketing, Mr. Bradfute said, the federation expects "to put Ohio apples and Ohio wool on the map." Instead of promiscuous marketing by individuals, he said, cooperation between farmers in sending where it is graded—or rather sorted their produce to a central station, itself into grades—enables Ohioans to compete with California apples which he declared not to be any better than Buckeye apples.

Similarly, he pointed out, Ohio wool is being brought to Columbus and packed in ware houses. At the same time, he pointed out, farmers are receiving three to four cents a pound more for wool.

Cooperative marketing, also, finds the proper markets more easily than individual bargaining could do, he said. In New York, white eggs command a higher price, he said, while in Boston brown eggs bring more.

Now, few farmers know this," he said, "but through our county and state agencies, these more lucrative markets, can be reached, without disaster to the consumer, or risk to the producer."

The importance to the stability of financial conditions in Ohio of the marketing of farm produce, he declared, is shown in the fact that among the industries in the state, dairying is first as to annual income, and poultry, second. Dairies in Ohio do a $72,000,000 business, annually he said. Half of this business, he said, is done co-operatively, with a saving to the dairyman of from 20 to 50 per cent over the old methods.

MENACE OF RAIL STRIKE AGAIN APPEARS NEAR

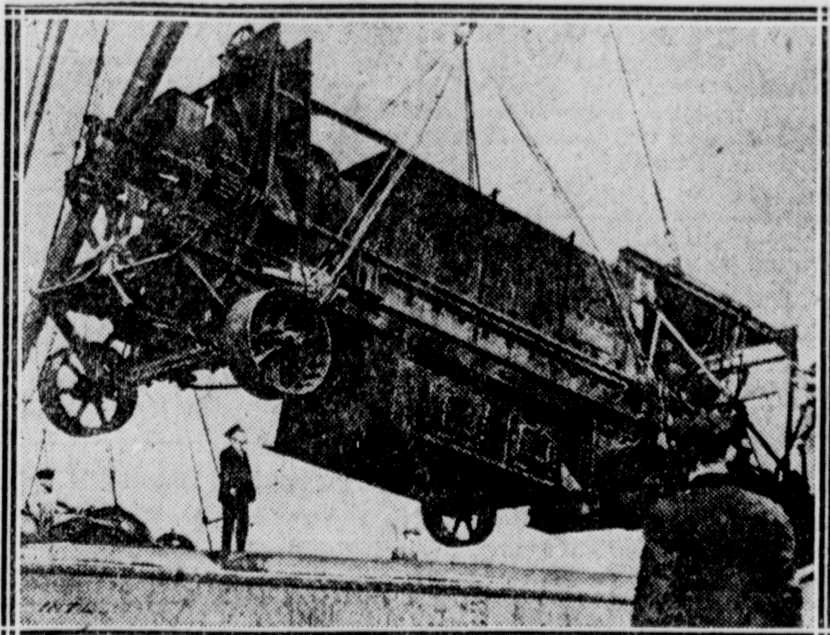

Chicago, April 22.—The menace of a railway strike involving the 600,000 members of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, loomed again today as the officials of the department began sending out strike ballots to the membership. ## Spiritualism Branded As Good Thing To Let Alone

Edwin Markham, Famous American Poet-Philosopher,
Declares Conan Doyle's Seances Are Menace
To People Who Hear of Them.

Chicago, April 22.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's spiritualistic seances and stories, before audiences in this country of his communication with the departed souls were branded today by Edwin Markham, famous American poet-philosopher, author of "The Man With the Hoe," as a menace to our people and a gospel that is in contradiction with the gospel preached by Jesus.

No good and much harm can come of the propagation of such a "new religion" as Sir Arthur advocates, according to the "poet of democracy," who will celebrate his 70th birthday tomorrow. He will be given a reception by the book lovers club of Chicago.

Sir Arthur's spiritualistic teachings and the teachings of Christ do not line up, Mr. Markham said and he "believes in Jesus."

"I have investigated spiritualism," said the gray-headed man, "and I am convinced it is one of the best things in the world to let alone."

"It tends to queer all people who get into it. It sends them to the insane asylums. Several of my friends have dabbled in it and all of them became unsettled mentally. They became detached from the practical. They took on a weird look in the eye. They became abnormal."

"Now anything that detaches us from practical affairs had better be shunned."

"There is of course some fraud in the doings of the seance and yet there may be a grain of reality under the tawdry show of the so-called spirit communication. It is possible, I admit that, some disincarnate spirits communicate. But the communication is always a common place, a mere exercise of the obvious, a ramble of words about things of no consequence, a waste of time."

"Sir Arthur hands out to us a weak, flabby optimism—a teaching that is in direct denial of the heroic teaching of Jesus, for Jesus teaching is, that life is a battle and a march. Sir Arthur said the way to life is not narrow and hard, but that it is broad and easy. This doctrine reduces life to a mere laughing Mar di Gras."

San Francisco, April 22.—Unless all political signs fail, California will be the big political battleground this year between the Democrats and Republicans.

Announcement by Isadore B. Dockweiler, state chairman of the Democratic party, that former Senator James D. Phelan will be the Democratic candidate for governor of California is taken by the political wizards to mean that the Democratic party has determined to start the presidential fight of two years hence in the state which decided in 1916 the presidential issue.

Senator Phelan has been on a world tour and is now in Rome. No announcement of his plans has come from him.

Dockweiler said the former senator would be "summoned" to make the race for governor.

The political wizard further sees in the announcement of Phelan's entry into the gubernatorial lists another step in the reported plans of William Gibbs McAdoo to be a candidate for the presidency two years hence.

McAdoo recently took up his residence in California. Since then reports have been rife as to his plans to head the democratic ticket in 1924.

Phelan if he becomes a candidate for governor will oppose Gov. William D. Stephens, who in all probability will run for re-election, although he may have opposition in the Republican primaries.

Senator Samuel Shortridge Republican defeated Senator Phelan at the last election, but Phelan ran 30,000 votes ahead of the Democratic ticket at testing his popularity and ability as a campaigner.

NEWSPAPER AD IS SALESMAN OF EXPERT VALUE

It's a fact isn't it that it all ways is more satisfactory to buy an automobile, a table cloth or a fountain pen from those salespeople who know automobiles, table cloths and fountain pens thoroughly—who can tell you why and how they are made, what they will do and the service they will render—why even higher priced articles are more often better.

And a newspaper advertisement is a salesman—a rather good one too, but you must see to it that it thoroughly explains the essentially effective characteristics of the goods that are offered for sale.

It MUST be specific—must prove interesting and informative in the extreme.

FRANCE MAY BOLT CONFERENCE AT GENOA BECAUSE OF TREATY BETWEEN GERMANY AND RUSSIA

Germany's Reply to Allies Regarding Pact is Inadequate
Declare French Who Maintain That Cannes
Program Has Been Violated.

Genoa, April 22.—Germany's reply to the allies regarding the Russo-German treaty was inadequate, it is declared in a letter which M. Barthou, head of the French delegation today sent to Premier Facta, of Italy president of the conference.

The note to Premier Facta specifically objects to the Germans claiming the right to sitting on the first

The French leader declared that the treaty violated the Cannes program. He demanded the nine powers which signed the note addressed to Chancellor Wirth, calling Germany to account for signing the treaty be asked to consider the German reply again.

The French and British are plainly at loggerheads. The British hold that since Germany accepted the alternative of banishment from the sub-committee dealing with Russian negotiations that the incident is closed. The French are not satisfied with this.

Barthou also addressed a second note to the other allied powers, stating that the treaty of Rapallo violates the Versailles treaty and demanding that the allies force the Germans to abrogate it.

In the note to Premier Facta, Barthou declared "it is not necessary to refute the lying allegations of the Germans since they (the allegations) are disproved by the loyal and frank attitude of the inviting powers."

FRANCE CANNOT ACCEPT TREATY

Paris, April 22.—"France cannot accept the Genoa viewpoint that the violation of the Versailles treaty resulting from the treaty of Rapallo is a closed incident," said an official statement issued by the foreign office today.

Premier Poincare again today denied reports that he intends to go to Genoa.

Premier Poincare's supporters are beginning to demand increased firmness towards Germany as a result of the treaty of Rapallo. The French press does not by any means regard the treaty incident as closed, as stated by Premier Lloyd George at Genoa.

sub-committee when it deals with subjects not covered in the treaty of Rapallo.

"Without speaking of other German engagements this treaty violates the principles of the Cannes agreement," the note to Premier Facta stated.

It developed today that Premier Lloyd George had not consulted the French regarding the German reply when he announced to newspaper correspondents that the incident of the treaty was now regarded as closed.

There were indications that the French, subjected to pressure, from Premier Poincare at Paris, have now resolved to bring things to a head and possibly bolt the conference.

Cossack's Wife In Tears.

Mrs. Gregorie Semenov, wife of the Russian General jailed by the law in New York for a civil suit. ## DENISON STUDENTS ARE GIVEN PHYSICAL EXAMS

Newark, April 22.—Several hundred men students of Denison University, Granville, underwent physical examination at the gymnasium, to clear the student body of any suspicion that might arise, following a series of six burglaries Wednesday night.

Harry Miller, night watchman, fired several loads of buckshot at the fleeing burglar who broke the window of a jewelry store. Blood spots were found on the pavement.

Mayor John S. Graham of Granville denied that any evidence was found directing suspicion to any student and declared the order for the examination did not emanate from the village officials.

Bryan Address Cancelled; Not Practical S. S. Man.

Ruling Announced Following Decision That Commoner
Will Not Make Speech at Convention In Kansas City In June.

Columbus, April 22.—Decision not to have William J. Bryan address the International Sunday School Association's convention at Kansas City June 21-27 in due to the belief that Bryan "is not a practical Sunday school man," according to Prof. Walter Athern, dean of the school of religious education, Boston University.

Prof. Athern is chairman of the committee on education, International Sunday School Council of Religious Education, which will open sessions here today to formulate a program for the next four years for all Protestant Sunday Schools and day schools of Christian religion in North America.

He asserted that Bryan's theological and scientific views "did not enter into the issue at all," but explained that the committee on program for the convention, of which Prof. Athern is a member, in disapproving the action of the sub-committee which selected Bryan and other men of equal public importance as convention speakers. Thought it best to have Sunday School experts and educators address the convention instead.

The program committee is to meet here next Tuesday. The committee on education reports 33 denominational Sunday School boards and 67 state and provincial Sunday Schools organizations with a total membership of 29,000,000 Prof. Athern stated.

DUBLIN TO SEE AN INDUSTRIAL TIE-UP MONDAY

General Strike Called as Protest Against Military Tactics

SUPPORT STRIKERS

Effort Made With Purpose of Eliminating Warfare in Nation.

Dublin, April 22.—The city is prepared for a complete shut down of all industry on Monday as a result of the general strike called as a protest against the military tactics of the two factions of the army.

Even the city corporation has agreed to support the strikers. The mayor addressing the council, declared:

"Why not get rid of these militaristic armies as we did the British. We can do without them. Let these bullets clear out, and then the people of the city will have peace."

Although the general strike has been called for the whole country it is not expected that, any places except the nationalist centers will be effected.

Leader O'Connor of the mutineers has sent a copy of their "peace terms" to the secretary of the Dail, demanding that the Dail be the only government. He also demands that the elections be postponed and asks an answer by Sunday.

U. S. RAIL LABOR BOARD LOSES

Chicago, April 22.—The United States Railway labor board lost its fight today to obtain dismissal of the injunction suit, brought against it by the Pennsylvania railroad. Judge Page, in the federal court, upheld the injunction granted the Penn., which meant that the case probably will go to trial on its merits.

The Penna. obtained a temporary injunction restraining the labor board from interfering in its method of conducting negotiations with employees regarding wage and working conditions. The road charges that the board was operating virtually as a compulsory arbitration body and denied its authority so to act.

MISS M'CORMICK WILL MARRY OSER IN JUNE

Rockefeller, is making arrangements for his marriage to Miss McCormick the latter part of June, at Basle. Although Mr. Rockefeller's consent to the marriage has not yet been obtained, Oser's friends here express the hope that it finally will be forthcoming.

Oser is negotiating for the sale of the horses he used in his riding school here and also is about to purchase a large farm near Geneva. The couple it is expected will spend their honeymoon in Switzerland later taking up their residence on the farm.

CAUTION FOR FILING FOR PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX RETURNS HERE

Have you filed your personal property tax return for 1922?

This is the question that officials in the County Auditor's office are asking, while returns for the year are coming in more slowly than usual.

The laws of Ohio make it necessary for each person having such property to list it and file with the County Auditor between the second Monday in April and the first day of May each year. If an owner of personal property fails to list it as required by law, within the time limit, he becomes the duty of the assessor to call upon the owner and list his property for him.

According to Tax Deputy C. B. Mowrer, the difference to the taxpayer lies in this: "If the property owner voluntarily makes his return within the time specified by law, he is entitled to an exemption of $100, which in the city of Xenia would amount to about $3.00 in his taxes. If he willfully fails to obey the law and the assessor is compelled to call upon him he loses not only the right to the $100 exemption, but is also day subject to a penalty of 50 per cent. on the amount of taxes due. If he has been in the hands of the assessor on or before May 1, 1922, and no return has been made out as of January 1, 1922, no exemption is allowed, but the penalty of 50 per cent will be attached in all cases where failure to obey the law exists."

SOCIAL SERVICE NOTES

Several weeks ago the case of a little boy who had a seriously injured foot was brought to the attention of the Social Service League. A physician had given temporary aid, but the injury was of such a nature that it could not be intelligently treated without an X-ray.

No one connected with the child could pay for this service. An appeal was made to the Social Service League. After the usual investigation which Mrs. Robertson always makes before help is given, and a consultation of workers, it was decided that to prevent a child from becoming a cripple with its attendant handicaps, was a worthy cause and a step along constructive lines, so the service was rendered.

A gratifying bit connected with the work of the Social Service League was recently related by Mrs. Robertson concerning one of its beneficiaries.

This woman possessed several hens. Since the needs of winter have passed and the hens have begun to produce eggs, every little while this woman brings in two or three eggs to help repay the League for what it has done for her.

It might be added that in turn Mrs. Robertson uses these eggs for the benefit of the invalids and undernourished for whom she cares.

The 20 Cent Sale recently held at the Social Service League was well patronized and brought in $16.50, there being 84 articles. These things constituted the surplus of donations left from winter needs.

Mrs. Whittington, whose services as Public Health Nurse were secured last week by the Social Service League, gave a short address before the Parent-Teachers' Association, which met at the McKinley building Tuesday afternoon.

She explained the manner in which she and Miss Evers of the Red Cross, after a consultation, have arranged to cooperate and distribute the public health work, so that the greatest efficiency may result.

While both these workers do as much as possible to relieve and care for those already ill, the chief object of Mrs. Whittington's efforts will be along preventive lines. To accomplish this she makes child welfare her main concern.

She begins with the babies and with the babies' mothers, teaching them how to care for themselves; how to prepare for the coming of the little ones; how to promote the health and growth in the children; and how to obtain and preserve clean and sanitary conditions in the home.

After Mrs. Robertson does the investigation and decides on the merit of the case, Mrs. Whittington does what is known as "the follow up work" seeing that instructions are understood and followed where she has done teaching assisting to secure medical and surgical care when necessary and giving regular attention to the comfort and relief of chronic cases.

Although in the work for less than a week, she has already found abundant fields for service and improvement.

MUST BE PENNED UP

In reply to a recent inquiry relative to chickens owned and kept within the city limits, it is announced that in Xenia there is an ordinance forbidding owners of chickens permitting them to run at large on other people's property. To get action under this ordinance it would only be necessary to file an affidavit in police court. It is the business of the person owning the chickens to provide for erecting a fence to keep the chickens on their premises.

Styles BY LENORE

The name of Poiret is not popularly associated with the type of clothes that the average well-dressed woman cares to see off the stage, since the creations of this master of color are usually devoted to the more bizarre, albeit thoroughly artistic effects. And so the model sketched today may surprise those who remember the spectacular "lampshade" tunics which made Poiret famous a few years ago.

Still, the gown is typical of Poiret for its exquisite color combination. It is developed in crepe de chine in a soft maroon shade of gray, with panels in the front and back of jade Georgette and dull gold in the border of embroidery which holds the two colors together.

If you intend to copy this model, you should observe that the front panel is cut in one with the low crushed girle.

Especially desirable at the moment is the long, neck-to-hem line of trimming, which detracts somewhat from the squareness of the effect so often created by the very low waistline.

especially on a figure of medium or less than medium height. This idea is illustrated in the model shown today.

White crepe marocain is the material used, as the trimming is cleverly accomplished with black braid, the long straight line being balanced at the other side with a graceful panel of pleated crepe Georgette.—Now I am giving away a secret in designing! In the back the effect is exactly that of the front, except that the lines are reversed. Of course the same model may be copied in blue, gray or beige, the fashionable colors for the season.

SOME GOOD CONTRIBUTED RECIPES

Mrs. C. B. "Potato Fried Cakes": Mix together 1 cup of hot mashed potato, 1 1/2 cups of sugar, 1 cup of sweet milk, 3 well beaten eggs, and 3 1/2 tablespoons of melted butter. Season this mixture to taste with a little nutmeg, then add about four cups of flour which has been sifted with 3 heaping teaspoons of baking powder. Roll out soft, cut, and fry in deep hot fat. These cakes will not get hard."

Mrs. G. R. "Caramel Pudding": Make a batter of 1/2 cup of sweet milk, 1/4 cup of granulated sugar 1 tablespoon of butter 1 heaping teaspoon of baking powder and flour enough to make a stiff batter, and drop this batter by spoonfuls into the following hot sauce:

Hot Sauce: Combine 2 1/2 cups of boiling water, 1 1/2 cups of brown sugar, 1 tablespoon of butter and a pinch of salt; boil this mixture for ten minutes and flavor to taste with any flavoring extract preferred. (Put this sauce into the casserole or baking dish in which the pudding is to be served, then drop the spoonfuls of batter into it.) Bake the pudding, in a hot oven for one half hour. Serve hot."

This recipe will answer Mrs. H. W.'s request.

Mrs. I. W. "Lemon Crumb Pie": One cup of buttered bread crumbs, 1/2 cup of honey, 2 egg-yolks and 1 egg-white, a pinch of salt, 1 cup of cold water in which 1 level tablespoon of cornstarch has been dissolved, and the juice and rind of 1 lemon. Mix these ingredients together well, and turn the mixture into a pan lined with the uncooked pastry. Bake 30 minutes in a hot oven, then cover top with a meringue made of left-over egg-white.

Crumb Pie: Soak 1 pint of bread crumbs in enough milk to soften them. Beat 3 eggs and add to these eggs 1/2 cup of sugar. Now line two pie pans with crust, and strew the bottom of these crusts with enough raisins to cover them. Mix the egg-and-sugar mixture with the soaked bread crumbs; sift in a bit of ground cinnamon and a pinch of salt, stir well, and turn this over the raisins in the two pans. Bake 30 minutes in a hot oven and cover with a mer.

Mrs. J. G. Springler Cookies: This recipe is one of many for this particular kind of little cake, sent to me from my readers in response to a request I made in this column some time ago. As all of the recipes differ in some respect, I hope to publish them all in time—but it may take several months more for me to get them all into print.) "One cup of powdered sugar, sifted and warm; 4 large eggs, 1 pound of flour, thoroughly dried and sifted, the grated rind of 1 lemon and 1/2 teaspoon of baking powder. Stir the sugar and eggs together for one hour, stirring only one way; then add the rind of lemon and stir in the flour (sifted with the baking powder) gradually. Make into a loaf shape without much handling, and set aside in a cool place for 2 hours. To make each little cake, take a small piece of dough (which must be stiff enough to cut) roll it out to about 1/4 inch thick, cut with forms that come for this kind of cake, and lay on cloth until morning. Bake in a quick oven and watch very closely in order to keep from burning."

BEAUTY CHATS BY EDNA KENT FORBES

SOME FRIVOLOUS HINTS

The question as to whether or not one should use cosmetics is one that seems constantly to agitate my women, and even my men readers. If cold cream or powder or even a little rouge will make a woman more beautiful why on earth shouldn't she use them? Some people say that it is unnatural to eat meat, that nature never intended us to eat each other, considering animals as being fellow creatures. If one carried the theory what is according to nature and what isn't to extremes we shouldn't wear any clothes.

Clothes are supposed to protect us and also to decorate us. Why shouldn't a woman, then, use cold cream which cleanses her skin from the dirt, and smoke that civilization has added to the city dwellers' existence, and why shouldn't she use powder which covers up the blemishes that modern artificial existence imparts to her skin.

The only thing she must remember is that these artificial aids to good looks must not show. If they do they defeat their own purpose. By day she should use a powder to match her skin, white or flesh pink if she has fair skin, brunette if she is dark, decided flesh if she is sallow, and the least bit of rouge if her skin is pale enough to need it.

At night she can, if she wishes to give her skin a delicate transparency use a very little bit of lavender powder. But this is dangerous stuff to play with, only a very little should be used on the skin, and most of it should be wiped off with a soft chamois. Under artificial light it gives a peculiar delicacy to the skin but under daylight it is quite awful. If only our girls would realize that they do not look beautiful with a lavender nose on a sunny day!

Betty Jane Hamilton, of New Castle, Pa., is the only twelve years old

Wanda—A simple Spring tonic will likely clear your skin of all these eruptions and if you do not store up any more impurities in the system, you may not have any more attacks of this kind. Flour of sulphur and molasses mixed together, make a good Spring tonic.

Another one is a tea made from the roots of three herbs which are burdock, yellowdock and dandelion. These are steeped until all the juices are extracted and a wineglassful is the amount taken for an adult three times each day.

The sulphur mixture is taken also three-times each day and the dose is a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful. After three days, omit for three days and then take it again for three days repeating this until there have been nine days in which the tonic has been taken. Rest for a week and note the results. If the skin is clear there is no reason to continue the tonic.

The sulphur mixture is a tonic because it is a blood purifier, which is also true of the herb tea and with all such purifiers, they will thin the blood if taken when they are not needed. There is no danger of overdoing this if they are taken as directed and discontinued when the skin has cleared.

Members of the Xenia City and the Greene County Boards of Education as well as members of the rural township and village boards, are expected to attend the first annual meeting of the Ohio State Association of School Board Members and Clerks to be held at the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, next Friday.

The new state association is being projected as a result of an informal conference among a limited number of board members and superintendents of schools, which took place in Columbus, March 24. Its purpose is to afford opportunity for exchange of ideas among boards of education in order to promote the efficiency of the schools; to render information more readily available and tend to diminish the demands of the school board of office upon members' time; suggest exchange of ideas by correspondence and enable boards to bring to bear a powerful organized force in matters of legislation.

Hunter, city board of education, Dayton; a talk by Arthur Miller, Noble County Board of Education, Caldwell; a talk by H. T. Waller, city board of education, Akron; talk by C. D. Laylin, professor of Law, at the Ohio State University, on recent legislation affecting the budget; talk by Dr. J. M. The action ends the question that has been worrying citizens for some time and eliminates the problems of transportation and tuition in the future.

CADETS WIN OVER JAMESTOWN TEAM

The O. S. & S. O. Home Cadets defeated the Jamestown High School team at Jamestown, in a five inning game 10 to 7.

The game was called at the end of the fifth on the agreement of the managers and to permit the Home players to return to the institution by 5:30 o'clock. The Cadets had little trouble in handling the Jamestown nine, the baseball team of that school not possessing the power that enabled Jamestown basketball five to win the county championship.

Major Hellar, coach of the Cadets, gave all four of his hurlers an opportunity on the mound. Jackson started the game, and after walking two men was jerked in the first inning. Torrence taking the hill. Noland, who pitched the second and third inning, did the best mound work for the Home team. Kauffman finished the game in the box.

Early, who hurled for Jamestown, pitched a nice game, but his support was faulty and the Cadets piled up runs in every inning. The line-up: Cadets—Torrence, p.; Turney, 2b.; Brewster, cf.; Lee, 1b.; Noland ss.; Jackson, p.b.; Sherman-Schultz, rf.; Waterman, c.; Blum, 3b.; Lewis lf.; Kauffman p. Jamestown—Toland cf.; Ferguson 3b.; Webb 1b.; Early, p.; Young c.; Moorman lf.; Arnold, rf.; Cooper 2b.; Farquhar, ss.

"UNANIMOUS CONSENT."

Debate in the United States Senate is really unlimited, although there is a rule, which is never invoked, that permits two thirds of the Senators present, after previous notice has been given, to bring to an end a debate that would otherwise be interminable. A Senator may occupy the floor for hours day after day, not even confining his remarks to the pending question, and there is no way to stop him or take the floor from him until he chooses to relinquish it. He is not called to order if he discusses, for example, the question of recognizing the Irish republic when the Senate is supposed to be considering appropriations for the District of Columbia.

In the House of Representatives, on the other hand, debate is almost strangled. No one can hold the floor for more than an hour, and whether he can get the floor at all depends on the will of the Speaker and on many other things besides. When an important bill or resolution is to be considered there is first of all an agreement that the debate shall be limited to a certain number of hours and that the time shall be divided equally between the leading advocate and the leading opponent of the measure and controlled by them. Of that allotted time they "yield" so many minutes to each speaker—sometimes as many as thirty, sometimes no more than one. Thus it happens that, if a member cannot obtain a concession from the member who controls the time on his side of the question, he cannot speak at all.

It follows that, whereas the House maintains such a restraint on oratory that it can and sometimes does bring to a final vote a great measure that has not been discussed in open session for a single moment, the Senate on the other hand may find itself unable under its rules to end a debate that has been dragging on for months.

FINANCIAL NORMALITY.

It does not seem long since many interests were bidding for money, and the government was required to pay as high as six per cent for short time loans. Money, as always, was seeking the highest possible returns, and many deserving enterprises were unable to pay the interest demanded.

A striking indication of a change in the money market is seen in the offering of a loan on certificates for six months by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon at the rate of three and one-half per cent. The offering is $150,000,000 and it will probably be over-subscribed several times.

Money is looking for jobs, and, as in the case of human workers, it must take less for its services if the competition is keen. Many opportunities for investment, which two years ago were considered of the most promising character, have failed to measure up to what was expected of them. The government and several other classes of borrowers benefit by the situation.

The government is now able to borrow money at the lowest rate it has secured since 1917. In view of the low rate the government pays on the money it needs, there should be cheaper funds for building and commercial purposes soon. Money is becoming more conservative. Business generally realizes that inflation is never profitable in the general adjudication, although large profits may be alluring for a time.

THE DAY OF UNDYING HOPE.

Not so much unlike the Christian hope, Easter finds a Christian world in a wondrous spirit of tenderness and exaltation. Disregard the authenticity of the Resurrection, if you will, and embrace it as a myth and it still remains the most inspiring, comforting hope that has ever come down the ages.

For those in the north temperate zone Easter has the additional charm of being seasonable. As an event in the history of Christianity it is the great day of hope, new life, the bursting forth of energy, the triumph of the spirit over the body. And so it is in the growing world of vegetation. It is especially so this year when the two events seemed especially synchronized to tell the story of the resurrection and life everlasting.

One can almost pardon the seeming fanaticism of the devotees of the Easter bonnet and other finery since back of it subconsciously is the impulse to exult in the advent of a new order. Obtrusion of selfishness and feverish materialism are not to be sanctioned at the expense of the heart and soul of humanity, but as a symbol of the changed order it is not without its significance.

To the thoughtful day is without parallel. It is to them proof unbounded of life eternal, of hope inexhaustible, of promises to come. With the sublime figure of the Resurrection before him no man need despair. It strikes off the despondency of the believer and makes him view his future with a confidence rooted in his faith and guaranteed by the event which gave to the world a new chart of life.

"LET'S GO FISHING!"

When he feels the urge to go fishing, the boy knows it is spring. So long as that thought arises in the mind of man so long does he retain the vitality of youth. The man who no longer feels a yearning to get out tackle and start for the stream should consult the family physician and put his business affairs in order.

Fishing is more than a sport; it is a season of philosophic reflection. The successful angler has to be philosophical. Of course a fisherman wants to catch fish, but one endowed with the real spirit will find pleasure in having gone fishing even though he comes home with the creel empty. However, he will not be so happy as he would be were it full. There is an indescribable thrill in the feel of the strike when the fish takes hold like he means business. The period which elapses between the first consciousness that something is doing and the time the fish is landed safely is one of intense, joyous life. It is a mixture of hope and fear, hope for the successful outcome and fear of failure.

It is true that a game fish at the end of the line can make more of a fuss than its size after it is out of the water would seem to warrant. That is the reason "the biggest ones get away." It is not intentional lying the fisherman does. The one which goes away seemed big and the ones safely landed were estimated before they left the water.

More than $2,000,000,000 worth of food and farm products will be exported from the United States during the year 1922.

A new winter vegetable, called the broccoli, and similar to cauliflower, is being shipped in large quantities from Oregon to the Eastern markets.

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

The butchers are having a hard time of it, owing to the advance in the price of meat. In Xenia: porterhouse steaks are selling for 20 cents a pound, while "chuck" steak is 15 cents. There is also a tendency to keep eggs on the boom they being sold at 15c a dozen.

The generator's and other electrical machinery for the Rapid Transit power house to be used by Springfield and Xenia Traction line, have arrived and the work of fitting up the power house is now under way.

Mr. L. Steinfeld, arrived in the city last night and was here for a short time today, paying a little visit among old friends.

Mr. R. D. Adair has been re-elected president of the Xenia School Board.

posed of Mr. Joe Cowser and his three sons, Friend, William and Jake, all of whom sing unusually well.

Harry Breidenour and wife and daughters, Mildred, Carrie and Ruth of near aVndalia, were dinner guests of their daughter, Mrs. Homer Koogler, Easter, callers in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kantner and son Edward of Beavertown, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hussong of Belmont Mr. and Mrs. Sam Post and son Karl, of Barrs' Station and Mrs. Henry Stewart and daughter Thelma and Nadine.

A most interesting program was given at the Community Club meeting Wednesday evening. Music by Misses May and Francis O'Hara on organ and violin and by the Misses Mildred and Hazel Engle and Virginia Mattern on cornet, violin and organ was much enjoyed. A number of humorous, dialect readings by Mrs. James Kogler, of Barrs' Station was especially pleasing as was attested by the number of encores which she received. Mrs. K. has a very pleasing personality and is an excellent impersonator.

The Misses Engle and Mattern are talented musicians and contributed much to the pleasure of the evening. They were accompanied by the former's parents, Walter Engle and wife, (Jennie Cosler) who formerly resided in Beavertown but now lives at Ohmer Park. Other numbers on the program, well received were a dialogue, "A Letter from Home," by Miss Georgia Cosler and brother Russell of Barrs' Station and a reading by the latter, Mrs. I. M. Coy and Mrs. Charles Hawker were the Committee in charge of the entertainment.

Mrs. Arthur Stewart entertained ten little girls Thursday after school in honor of her daughter Ruth's eighth birthday anniversary. Refreshments of sandwiches, salad, apples, ice-cream, cake and candy were served. The little girls spent a merry time in playing games. Those present were Sarah Ferguson, Mary Haverstick, Mildred Stewart, Charlotte Geiser, Ruth Rock, Hilda and Irene Bailey, Helen Stopp, Thelma Turner, Ruth Hildebrand, Ruth and Martha Stewart.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

PLUS AND MINUS

No one is held responsible for abilities which he hasn't. And yet how many there are who spend a portion of their lives regretting that they have not and neglecting what they have.

The study of successful people is illuminating. Rarely have they been those who originally were brilliant. Success is a matter largely of adding to what you have and taking away or dismissing everything that hinders.

The soldier in dispensing with a part of his equipment for the long tramp, adds to his strength for the entire journey.

By learning to discriminate you add greatly to your power, no matter in what work you may be engaged. The wise executive saves time for his entire working force, and eliminates waste.

You are a bundle of possibilities. No one—not even yourself—is able to predict accurately what you are to become. But in quite a satisfactory way you can so develop what you have that few would suspect you had it in you.

I know of a young man who but a few years ago was called "the black sheep" of his family. It was taken as a settled fact that he would never amount to anything. But I heard of this same young man the other day—and behold, he had become a changed man and the support of his family, loved and honored.

Here was an incident wherein a chap came to himself and decided to plus his abilities and to minus his failings.

FAREWELL, WINTER.

It has been a weary season, this old winter that departs. Spring arrives, and with good reason we have gladness in our hearts. Always when the winter's aging we grow weary of its curves, weary of its futile raging, and its presence jars our nerves. When the wind, in nook and cranny, howls through dark and bitter hours, how we yearn for Gentle Annie, with her apron full of flowers! When the winter first comes chasing, we pretend we like its play; "Ah, this cold," we say, "is bracing, it is good for any day; it is fine to face the blizzard, and it makes us young again; heat may suit the clammy lizard, cold is for the sons of men." For a week we smile and chortle as we jog through drifted snow; but our mirth is frail and mortal, and a fortnight lays it low. Oh, the night wind is uncanny, and it has a ghostly sound, and we yearn for Gentle Annie with a yearning most profound. Snow will do for crazed explorers who would find some sort of pole, but the spring winds are restorers of the weary human soul. And I sit here with my granny, arm in arm we twain abide, and we root for Gentle Annie, gladly letting winter slide.

LIGHT-SIX SEDAN $1750

f. o. b. South Bend

See This New Low-Priced Sedan!

Two more cylinders make a world of difference.

You notice it when the LIGHT SIX slows down to a snail's gait in traffic. You notice it when the open highway ahead invites the throttle. You notice it in the greater responsiveness, the greater flexibility, the greater s-m-o-o-t-h-n-e-s-s and in the absence of vibration.

There are new driving pleasures waiting for you in the Studebaker LIGHT SIX Sedan.

Not only is its motor more powerful, more flexible and freer from vibration than any other light six-cylinder motor ever produced, but the perfect distribution of the car weight over all four wheels gives it unusual riding and driving qualities.

If you have been accustomed to driving a "four," the responsiveness of the LIGHT-SIX will be a revelation. If you are now driving another six-cylinder car, the lack of vibration and perfect balance of this LIGHT-SIX will create new standards of riding comfort.

But, equally important, is the new low price of $1750—an intrinsic value without parallel in the industry!

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn.—"Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help other women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles were past."—Mrs. E. T. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain.

If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. We believe it will help you greatly, for it has helped others.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS FAVORS DECREASE IN C. OF C. DUES

A motion to reduce the Chamber of Commerce annual dues from $25 to $10 as recommended by a meeting of people interested in the welfare of the organization Thursday night, was unanimously passed by the board of directors in special session Friday afternoon.

At the same time the board endorsed the plan for the continuance of the Chamber and approved of the membership drive which will be launched next Monday by volunteer workers, who will meet at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms at ten o'clock, to outline the whirlwind campaign that will be carried out.

In order to avoid the necessity of changing the constitution, and by laws of the Chamber of Commerce, and to eliminate changing of the time of the fiscal year, it was agreed by the board of directors, that memberships in the Chamber of Commerce from May 1 to Sept. 15 of this year be sold for $3.50 apiece. Members who are paid up in the Chamber of Commerce until Sept. 15, 1922 will also be credited with a membership until September 15, 1923, it was decided by the board.

Membership solicitors who will start out Monday morning, will take memberships on the basis of the short term of four months for $3.50 date $10 memberships from September 15, 1923. Prospective members may pay for the four month period and the full fiscal year at the same time, if they care to, and plural memberships will be welcomed as in the past from companies or concerns wishing to enter members.

It was the sentiment of the board of directors at the meeting Friday afternoon, that the membership campaign should be followed by a full reorganization. Members of the campaign expressed themselves as anxious to resign as soon as the campaign is finished and make away for a full new board and new officers. After the campaign, the new membership roster will be mailed to members to nominate candidates for the board and the election will be conducted as in the past.

The following members or prospective members have volunteered to work during the membership campaign, which starts Monday: James Wilson 3rd, Charles Kelbel, J. W. Kennedy, Karl B. Bloom, J. T. Charney, E. D. Beatty, C. C. Long, J. D. Adair, Jacob Kany, H. M. Owens, Adolph Moser, Paul G. Fetz, H. L. Sayre, F. M. Torrence, F. W. Dadds and George Geyer. This number will be supplemented by other members willing to devote part of their time next week solicitation of new members and renewals of those who have permitted their membership to lapse. The membership committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce next Monday morning at ten o'clock, according to Miss Janice Owens, office manager.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION AS RESULT OF INJURY

Mrs. Elizabeth Corr, who has been spending several months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas, in Yellow Springs, is in a serious condition as a result of a fall she sustained Tuesday, fracturing her hip.

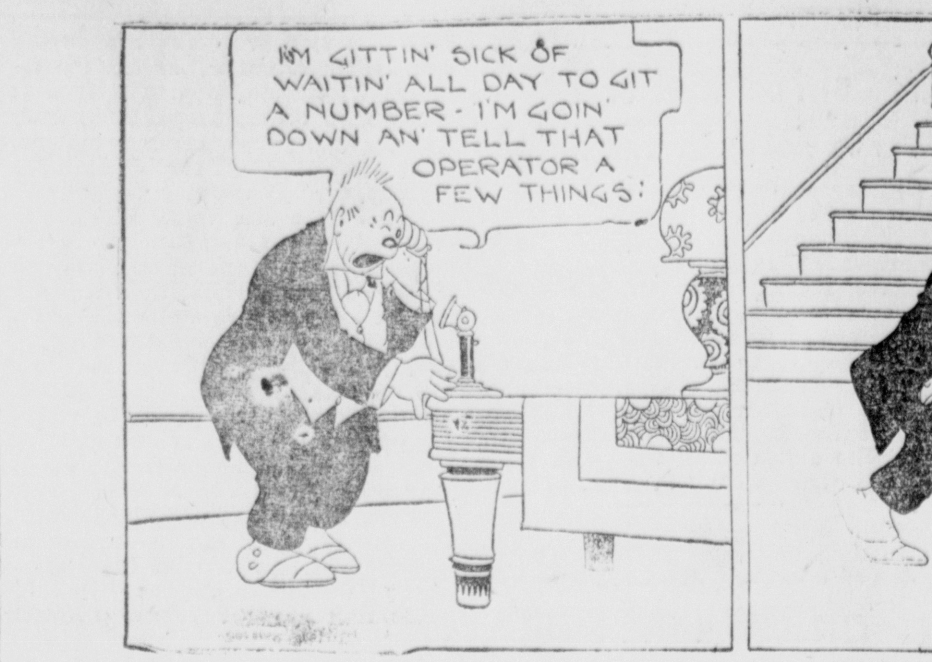

Owing to the nature of the injury, and the fact of her advanced age, physicians held little hope for her recovery following the accident. Saturday, however, it was felt that her condition is improving, and hopes are being felt for her recovery.
